

Represent Tech Scholarship | Terms & Conditions

We believe that the natural aptitude for learning to code is distributed evenly throughout the population, but access to opportunity is not. At Tech Elevator our mission is to elevate people, companies, and communities. We strive for our student body to reflect the makeup of the communities we serve. That means we're committed to diversity within our classrooms and to helping our hiring partners foster an inclusive technology workforce. To that end, we're proud to offer scholarships to historically underrepresented groups creating greater accessibility to careers in technology.

The Represent Tech Scholarship is provided by Tech Elevator to one student enrolled in each cohort at each of our Campuses, including our Live-Remote program, in the amount of $13,175.

Eligible recipients include self-identified underrepresented persons who have been accepted and enrolled into the upcoming cohort. For the Represent Tech Scholarship, Tech Elevator defines underrepresented persons in technology as individuals identifying with any of the following qualifiers, in either category, based on both metrics provided by Statistical Atlas as well as an internal analysis of the tech industry:

- Gender Identities: Female, Transgender, Non-binary
- Racial or Ethnic Identities: Black/African-American, Hispanic/Latino, Native American/American Indian

Scholarship applicants must first apply, be accepted, and enroll in the next available Tech Elevator cohort in their nearest market, or Live-Remote program. In order to have been accepted and enrolled in Tech Elevator, the recipient must have met all the entrance, application process, and enrollment requirements as outlined in the Tech Elevator School Catalog the recipient received upon enrollment. Additionally, the recipient must have submitted a complete Represent Tech Scholarship online application.

Scholarship applications are reviewed 7 weeks prior to the cohort start. Recipients are selected by a panel of Tech Elevator team members 5 weeks prior to the cohort start.

The one-time award amount will be applied directly as a credit toward the recipient's tuition. The recipient is responsible for the Enrollment deposit, as outlined in the school catalog, as well as the remainder of the tuition balance due by Day 1 of the program. The scholarship funds will not be applied toward any other payments or costs associated with the program including, but not limited to, the Enrollment Deposit, or any other living expenses the recipient might incur throughout the course of the program. It is the recipient's responsibility, once accepted for the scholarship, to inform any 3rd party financing sources on their final reduced tuition amount. Overpayment from a 3rd party financing source directly to Tech Elevator will not result in a refund from Tech Elevator directly to the recipient.

The recipient is required to remain enrolled in their cohort throughout the entire course of the Tech Elevator program. Failure to do so would forfeit any refund of Enrollment Deposit or the $2,325 student-funded portion of the tuition. Please note, this refund policy falls outside the stated general refund policy as detailed in the school catalog. The recipient may not transfer the funds to apply to another cohort. Should the recipient be unable to attend the agreed-upon enrolled cohort, the recipient forfeits the scholarship and would need to re-apply for the scholarship upon re-enrollment into a later cohort.
